

Said and Done

Eighteen Visions

Close the book and turn the page

Exit players from the stage

Count the moons and the stars

But please stop fighting wars with meAfter all is said and done you still try

After all is said and done you're not mineTurn your back on all hope

This sheep has shed his winter coat

You send your notes and rantings

This pigeon has hard times landingAfter all is said and done you still try

After all is said and done you're not mine
