

Expectations

Cuddle Magic

I had some problems keeping girls in the past,
Somehow I'm certain she's the one who will last.
She makes no promises, she lays out the deal
And still I tell myself this love is for real.

I should know better,
I should not let her,
I should know better,
I should not let her in,
I should not let her win.

I still believe it now, I knew all along
That in between us wasn't anything at all.
Incorporating all my favorite drinks,
She is the picture perfect woman who waits

For me forever.
Could it be better?
I should know better,
Why did I let her see
That it could never be?

whistles

My expectations fucked me over and then
My inclination is to do it again.
My expectations fucked me over and then
My inclination is to do it again.

I should know better,
I should not let her,
I should know better,
I should not let in,
I should not let her win.

Lyrics submitted by Lo Abrams.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>