

Flashbax

Oasis

I spend my time sittin' on the fence with a mate of mine
I'm tryin' to write the line of a story
We believe that everything said is a waste of time
'Cos life is well tried and it bores me Yeah, yeah, yeah In my well paid opinion
These things, they really don't matter
But from my crystal gazing eye
There shines a light like dynamite Sittin' on a throne will give a bad back to you
Livin' on my own was like a flashback
To the days when I was lost and lonely
Saying what I said was just a different story All your lies, well, they still bore me
There's nothin' wrong with my world
And these things they really don't matter now I spend my time sittin' on the fence with a mate of mine
I'm tryin' to write the line of a story
We believe that everything said is a waste of time
'Cos life is well tried and it bores me Yeah, yeah, yeah In my well paid opinion
These things they really don't matter
'Cos from my crystal gazin' eye
There shines a light like dynamite Sittin' on a throne will give a bad back to you
Livin' on my own was like a flashback
To the days when I was lost and lonely
Saying what I said was just a different story All those lies, man, they still bore me
There's nothin' wrong with my world
And these things they really don't matter
These things they really don't matter now Sittin' on a throne will give a bad back to you
Livin' on my own was like a flashback
To the days when I was lost and lonely
Saying what I said was just a different story All your lies, man, they still bore me
There's nothin' wrong in my world
And these things they really don't matter
These things they really don't matter now Don't matter now, don't matter now
Don't matter now, don't matter now
Don't matter now, don't matter now
Don't matter now, don't matter now
