

Echo Park

Ximena Sarinana

I am bent on a craving time to change out of date and
There is always someone else

In the making

I will go if you let me
For the ones who'll impress me
I can fall in and out of love

Very quickly

I thought he was ready
to mend my broken heart

I fell when he told me

He liked to play guitar

I know I can be naive

Give myself entirely

For a man who looks like he
Knows his way 'round casually

I will start and look surprised
'Till someone reminds me that...

He was fond of Godard

I am known to be fooled by

Simple ones covered in lies

They know how to hypnotize

With their dull eyes

I thought he was ready

To mend my broken heart

I fell when he told me

He liked to play guitar

I know I can be naive

Give myself entirely

For a man who looks like he
Knows his way 'round casually

I will start and look surprised
'Till someone reminds me that

He knew 'bout modern arts

I thought he was ready

To mend my broken heart

I fell when he told me

He liked to play guitar

I know I can be naive
Give myself entirely
For a man who looks like he
Knows his way 'round casually
I will start and look surprised
'Till someone reminds me that
He lives in Echo Park

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>