

Doll Hospital

John Hiatt

Well, lots of little pieces make up the little girl
Such a tiny thing in this great big world
Well, now I've got to find out what's crackin' up
My little buttercup, I got to take her to the Doll hospital
Well I bought her a doll house and a corvette too
She's got everything's Barbie's got, I'm tellin' you
But every time I make a move, just to touch her hair, she says
"Little boys should play with teddy bears"
I'm gonna take her to the Doll hospital
Oh yeah, baby you'll be alright
I'm gonna take you to the Doll hospital tonight
Oh yeah, baby you look affright
I'm gonna take you to the Doll hospital
Well, all in love is fair, but it's the wear and tear
And words left unspoken, that leave hearts broken
I never tore your legs off or threw you on the floor
Well I know baby cries a lot, but please don't cry no more
When we played doctor I must have made a mess
But I fixed her little wagon up good I guess
She said Ken never made her heart beat so
But he lacked that certain somethin' as we all know
Now I burst her little bubble, her mind's about to go
Gotta get her to the Doll hospital
Oh yeah, baby you'll be alright
I'm gonna take you to the Doll hospital tonight
Oh yeah, baby you look affright
I'm gonna take you to the Doll hospital
I'm gonna take you to the Doll hospital
I'm gonna take you to the Doll hospital

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>