Standing on the edge of my intention looking down into my hell and all I see are people in destruction begging for an answer

But above the hate they carry on in silence they believe the only voice inside and it's not another nightmare of how you'll surrender your life today

I hear their voices now a pain awake again Feel their eyes as you run but you cannot hide
so you gotta release your soul tonight, yeah

This is my hell
I live to tell
the only story of how I betrayed my own direction There's nowhere to go
in time you'll know
you gotta live to die

and time will tell
the only story of how I forgave my own deception
in time you'll know
today you've gotta die to keep yourself alive

You live, you die, and life goes on

Staring at the sight of my reflection broken by these silent screams and all I feel are shards of imperfection piercing through my dreams

But another night I've wasted in defiance I believe the only voice inside and it's just another nightmare of how I'll surrender my life today

I feel their presence now a fear that takes me in All the sins, all the lies that you can't deny
so you gotta release your soul tonight, yeah

I live to tell
in time you'll know

You bleed, you bleed, you bleed, your heart is bleeding you're on your knees you're praying now for all the sins and the tragedies you've buried deep You breathe, you breathe, you breathe, your soul is breathing and now you feel the burn inside so take your life and make it right

This is my hell
I live to tell

This is the life you chose and you know the story must go on
