

Feared and Hated

Mustasch

I've always felt rejected
I've always strayed the streets on my own
Like a stranger that nobody knows
I lied and made up stories
To hide the fact that I was alone
An outcast from a broken home Here in my dreams
I know what I want to be I wanted to be loved, at least admired
If not I want to be feared and hated We want to be connected
We shiver deep down in our souls
For the void of not being known
I'm tired of dwelling in silence
I don't believe in unwritten laws
I was meant for a higher cause Here in my dreams
I know what I want to be I wanted to be loved, at least admired
If not I want to be feared and hated
