You're Lucky to Be Alive

Braid

club starlight where your eyes round brown and shine darted out for the dimes in world record time now it's time to give it to themit's a new dream it's constant it's madly it's everything to me as the sun set on the set on the set ready set go go make a mess of the mystery of your perfect love historyand everyone knows your name and everyone knows we're the same you're lucky to be alivelittle bee stings and little happenings they're all just silly things they never made our scene interesting they never made it into a movie screeningso hey love she darts in and out for the drinks tonight she misses your eyes at club starlight she'll be back and blue in the summertime together we'll ride wherever and foreverand you think you're insane a somebody else in a cruel game
and everyone knows your name
you're lucky to be alivewe're sick and we'll stay sick in this city at least you'll keep your distance but keep me around our heads in the clouds both feet off the ground.
