

Take One

PEZ

Let me find my page
And try to jot before my rhymes all fade
I think so much you'd think I'd rhyme for days
But I seem to stray and lose sight of what I'm trying to say
It's like I take
So long to write
Everything I wanted it to say gets away
So on my page every line gets erased
Because I write the same shit in like 5 different ways
Or just sit there as time ticks away
My mind in a fight tryin' to find shit to say
Inside I find that my eyes all dazed
And let my mind lapse so it gets me sidetracked
Then it's gone
Every thought that was there
Is now stored in the form of a wall and the more that I stare
The harder it gets to break through (Shit) Man, I wish I had a take two...
