Old Money

Omar A. Rodriguez-Lopez

Old money goes a long way but not far enough to shake that frown you change your lines still the readers of these publications buyOld money has a new face Go flash it in the Hamptons now The look, the life still the readers of these publications buy but now daddy's overseeing so maybe this time old money find your own way homeits just a lesson learnt with time cut the television, phone lines and all the dirty pretty things its just a short sentence, no it aint life you're out in good time but intentions will remain
