At First Sight

Jay Brannan

You're looking so beautiful Standing in the light I've waited for this night For my whole lifeI reach to grab your hand I take it into mine Our hearts become numb Our hearts have become oneAnd I'll wait for you If our world's falling down Crumbling to the groundAnd I'll wait for you If our world's falling down Crumbling to the groundWith this honor On weak knees I stand Strengthened by your handsAs the music starts to play That look upon your face I see what's in your eyes You see what's inside mineWe see our life together We feel it as we dance There's rhythm in our love It's rhythm from aboveAnd I'll wait for you If our world's falling down Crumbling to the groundWith this honor On weak knees I stand Strengthened by your handsWith this honor On weak knees I stand Strengthened by your handsWith this dance our life begins With these steps love has no end With this dance our life begins And I'll wait, and I'll waitWith this honor On weak knees I stand Strengthened by your handsWith this honor On weak knees I stand Strengthened by your handsWith this honor On weak knees I stand

Strengthened by your handsWith this honor
On weak knees I stand
Strengthened by your hands
[Incomprehensible]
Strengthened by your hands
