Overrated

Thriving Ivory

She makes herself at home
God it's better than her place
She loves the little things
God we all need something

She swears this life is often overrated

Won't see her in the movies
Ain't no Marilyn Monroe
She calls herself Maria
Because she likes the name

She swears this life is often overrated

She can't relate to a world that only knows her by her face
Is there anyone still breathing?
And she thinks that I'm the one that makes it rain

She never cared for reason
And no religion at all
She said it makes her feel unsteady
Without a God to blame

She swears this life is often overrated

She can't relate to a world that only knows her by her face
Is there anyone still breathing?
And she thinks that I'm the one that makes it rain

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by SCOTT LEE JASON, CLAYTON STROOPE Lyrics Â© BMG RUBY SONGS OBO ABSURD MUSIC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/