That's All This Old World Needs

Perry Como

That's all this old world needs
That's all this old world needs
A little more love an' sweet devotion
A little less hate an' wild commotion
That's all this world needsThat's all this old world needs
That's all this old world needs
A little more truth an' no more lies
And only rain fallin' from the skies
That's all this world needsA little less envy, a little less greed
A little more lookin' to your brothers need
A little more laughter, a little more song
An' a world where people know right from wrongThat's all this old world needs
That's all this old world needs
The innocence of children everywhere
The peacefulness of an evening prayer
That's all this world needsA little less envy, a little less greed
A little more lookin' to your brothers need
A little more laughter, a little more song
An' a world where people know right from wrongThat's all this old world needs
That's all this old world needs
The innocence of children everywhere
The peacefulness of an evening prayer
That's all this world needsThat's all this old world needs
That's all this old world needs
The innocence of children everywhere
The peacefulness of an evening prayer
That's all this world needsThat's all this world needs

Songwriters
Tubert, Bob / Tapp, DemetrissPublished by Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, VINTAGE MUSIC, INC.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/