Brand New Me

Charlie Robison

This is my same old coat and my same old shoes
I was the same old me with the same old blues
Then you touched my life just by holding my hand
Now I look in the mirror and see a brand new girl
I got a brand new walk
A brand new smile
Since I met you, baby
I got a brand new style
Just because of you, boy
Just because of you
I got the same old friends, they got the same old sins
I tell the same old jokes, give the same old grins
But now the jokes sound new and the laughter does too
Everyday of my life is fresh as morning dew
Just because of you, boy
Just because of you
I go to the same old places
See the same old faces
Look at the same old skies
See them all with brand new eyes
