

Poem (Precision Version)

Taproot

Overbearing panic attack entrenching my veins

In an hour I'll be OK I pray that this pain will go away permanently someday

I've seen more than I should have to I've seen this on my own This song is a poem to myself it helps me to live

In case of fire break the glass and move on into your own, your own Reoccurring drowning effect entrenching
my brain

I hope you'll be OK someday so I can say that you moved on in the right way

We've seen this and we've breathed this and we've lived this on our own This song is a poem to myself it helps me to live

In case of fire break the glass and move on into your own This song is a poem to myself it helps me to live
In case of fire break the glass and move on into your own, your own This song is a poem to myself it helps me to live

In case of fire break the glass and move on into your own This song is a poem to myself it helps me to live

In case of fire break the glass and move on into your own, your own, your own, your own!

Songwriters

MONTAGUE, JARROD DOUGLAS / DE WOLF, MICHAEL FREDERICK / LIPSCOMB, PHILIP M. /

RICHARDS, STEPHEN STEELE Published by

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>