

Arise

Sideblast

Tell the swine, we will make it out alive
There's a note in the pages of the book
So sleep tonight, we'll sleep dreamlessly this time
When we awake we'll know that everything's alright
 Sing to me about the end of the world
 End of these hammers and needles for you
Hold on to the world we all remember fighting for
 There's some strength left in us yet
Hold on to the world we all remember dying for
 There's some hope left in it yet
The snow on your face and your razor blades
 The twilight is bruised and there you lie
 Sing to me about the end of the world
 End of these hammers and needles for you
We'll cry tonight but in the morning we are new
 Stand in the sun, we'll dry your eyes
Hold on to the world we all remember fighting for
 There's some strength left in us yet
Hold on to the world we all remember dying for
 There's some hope left in it yet
 Sing, sing, arise
 Arise and be
All that you dreamed, all that you dreamed
 Arise and be
All that you dreamed, all that you dreamed
 Arise and be
All the you dreamed, all that you dreamed
 Arise and be
All that you dreamed, all that you dreamed
 Arise and be
All that you dreamed, all that you dreamed
 Arise and be
All that you dreamed, all that you dreamed
 Arise and be
All that you dreamed, all that you dreamed
 Arise and be
