Meant to Be (feat. Jacob Hemphill)

Rebelution

I can see the sun come up time to get away from here time to make a new plan up again water never felt this good and air that never felt so pure time to make a new plan up again well it was true when I said it I'd Rather forget it when the past don't matter now you think I owe you but I gotta go you see the past don't matter now and it feels like life is taking over it feels like its meant to be and it feels like life is taking over, it feels like its meant to be cause I can see the sunrise on my way I can see the road rise to meet me
I can feel the earth underneath my feet and I can see the stars on top of me and I say don't ever come down, come down, no I need your light now, right now, Yeah don't ever come down, come down no I need your light now, right now, YeahNow that I've come this far I'm never looking back no-
time to make a new plan up again things have never looked this clear I'm never looking back no-
time to make a new plan up again
cause I can see the sunrise on my way
I can see the road rise to meet me
I can feel the earth underneath my feet
and I can see the stars on top of me
and I say don't ever come down, come down, no
I need your light now, right now, Yeah
don't ever come down, come down, no-I need your light now, right now and it feels like life is taking over, it feels like its meant to be [x2]
well it was true when I said it Id rather forget it
you think I owe you but I gotta go you see the past don't matter now

and it feels like life is taking over, it feels like its meant to be [x2]
