

Sad Song

Marian Hill

Not sure who you think you're talking to,
But I been hearing way too much from you.
Tryna hang up but you hang around,
Got me hungover and you bring me down. Running your mouth about the way that I've been living
Girl you just keep on digging
This gift just keeps on giving, if you're Trying to cut me down, you better reconsider
You know my skin is thicker, so just Ease up off the trigger You've been talking for so long
Can't you just leave me alone? Stop I don't wanna hear it
You been talking too long
Stop I don't wanna hear it
You been singing that same sad song Stop - you don't wanna hear it
Always thinking you're strong
Stop - girl you gotta hear it
You been singing that same sad song Not sure how you think we're having fun,
Party's all done and you've just begun.
Tryna clean up but you took the floor,
Wanna sweep your mess right out the door. Looking you up and down you're close to boiling over You're losing your composure, Faded from overexposure, and you're Reaching you're always making simple things a struggle
You know you're making trouble
You're anything but subtle You've been talking for so long
Can't you just leave me alone? Stop I don't wanna hear it
You been talking too long
Stop I don't wanna hear it
You been singing that same sad song Stop you don't wanna hear it
Always thinking you're strong
Stop girl you gotta hear it
You been singing that same sad song
