New Moon

Tweedy

Well I've always been certain nearly all of my life one day I'd be your burden and you would be my wifeLet me hang like a new moon and let me be your twin let me hang like a new moon and don't treat me like a stranger againYou keep me as your thief please let me be a little more and when you fall asleep let me be what you're dreaming forLet me hang like a new moon don't treat me like a stranger anymoreWell I've always been certain nearly all my life one day I'd be a burden
and you would be my wifeLet me hang like a new moon
high in the wind
Let me hang like a new moon
don't treat me like a stranger againYou keep me as a theif
please let me be a little more when you fall asleep let me be what you're dreaming forI've always been certain
nearly all of my life

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/