Charming Gun

Artemis

on the hunt to resurrect the peace our revels have just started many lifetime friend give to me this moment over and over again it's crystal clear we're all spirits here and are melting into air into thin air and are melting

white towers without foundation silent temple bells snowy peaks lost in the clouds this great globe as well all that you see shall dissolve once more we're the stuff that dreams are made of but shadows shape these forms

on the hunt to resurrect the peace

you and your charming gun gonna give me something to believe in brother of every color many lifetime friend

give to me this moment over and over again love comes to me in a steady stream fills me up from tip to toe till i'm bursting
