Stone Sour

Can you tell me how far I've come..
Can you tell me where I've been..
Never stopped..
Knew I should've run..
But now I..
Don't remember where I am...
All my life I've been holding back..
Consider this my last request..
Everything for all my sins..Open up the sun and burn my eyes..
Open up your arms and save my life..
I know I'll never go home again..
But I will take what i can get..
I promise you everything.. everything.. just don't forget me in the end..Right in front of my face..
In between a little void..
This was something I couldn't have..
That just made me want it more..
Now I know the reason I was built like this..
Now I know why I am here..
I'm here for you..Open up the sun and burn my eyes..
Open up your arms and save my life..
I know I'll never go home again..
I need a little more..
But I'll take what I can get..
I promise you everything.. everything.. just don't forget me in the end..
