

Hurricane

Collective Soul

Hurricane's in town
She left for a day than she turned around
Said she couldn't leave
Until the storm she brewed had covered me Yeah this day she feels alive
When her head and heart collide
It's just the way that she survives
And nothing's quite the same
Yeah she's living for the change
One and only hurricane Hurricane's so sweet
She offers up a truce underneath the sheets
She changed course again
Shelter from the Lord and future sins Yeah this day she feels alive
When her head and heart collide
It's just the way that she survives
And nothing's quite the same
Yeah she's living for the change
One and only hurricane I'm not helpless 'cause she's so selfish
Yeah I'm just trying to figure what to do
She keeps running while the world is stopping
Yeah there's no telling what she'll crash into
I won't panic 'cause she's so manic
Yeah I'm just hoping she'll find some truth
Yeah, I hope she finds some truth
God I hope I find it too Yeah this day she feels alive
When her head and heart collide
It's just the way that she survives
And nothing's quite the same
Yeah she's living for the change
One and only hurricane Yeah this day she feels alive
When her head and heart collide
It's just the way that she survives
And nothing's quite the same
Yeah she's living for the change
One and only hurricane

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>