I Could Have Loved You

Lighthouse Family

Far too many things have come
Between where we are now
Where we could have beenSometimes a chance comes once
And then it goes right out the window
Now the truth shines through
I could have loved youNow I know what a terrible mistake I've made
Now I know this feeling's still around
Now I know just what a selfish little fool I've been
Now I know for sure this love will never goHey, there must have been a way
That I could have loved you more
Now I know there must have been a day
When I could have you loved moreFor too many times I let you down
With the behavior of a typical clown
Selfish through and throughI told more than a few sophisticated lies
Without a grain of truth
But you could see right through
I could have loved youNow I know what a terrible mistake I've made
Now I know this feeling's still around
Now I know just what a selfish little fool I've been
Now I know for sure this love will never goHey, there must have been a way
That I could have loved you more
Now I know there must have been a day
When I could have you loved moreNow I know there must have been a way
That I could have you loved more
Now I know there must have been a day
When I could have loved you moreNow I know what a terrible mistake I've made
Now I know this feeling's still around
Now I know just what a selfish little fool I've been
Now I know for sure this love will never goHey, there must have been a way
That I could have loved you more
Now I know there must have been a day
When I could have you loved more
Now I know there must have been a way
That I could have you loved moreHey, there must have been a way
That I could have loved you more
Now I know there must have been a day
When I could have you loved more
Now I know there must have been a way
That I could have you loved more

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/