

Limbs

Alcoa

Dancing in the deep, Her body
Strengthens in a way, We don't see
 In you and me
 These limbs
They can take you higher
They can take you higher
Tailored by the moons, She mates so well
Perfected by the symmetry, Her body tells

Just you wait and see
 These limbs
They can take you higher
They can take you higher
Sitting by the bed, I can see through her skin
She can hardly breathe a word, Her body is so thin
 But I can still see
 These limbs
They can break like branches
They can break like branches
