

I've Been Waiting for Your Love

Lari White

Love, I watch you sleep and I realize
You're everything I've ever wanted
And now, all of my dreams have come to life
I always knew that you were out there somewhere
And now you're here by my side I've been waiting for your love, baby
I've held this vision in my mind
I've been waiting for your love, darling
All this time
I was a lonely girl 'til you stepped in my world
So glad I never gave up
Anticipating I've been waiting for your love Time slipped through my hand, with each grain of sand
I felt you get closer and closer
And hope was all that I had to keep me strong
No one could touch the dream I held inside me
That's why I held out so long I've been waiting for your love, baby
I've held this vision in my mind
I've been waiting for your love, darling
All this time
I was a lonely girl 'til you stepped in my world
So glad I never gave up
Anticipating I've been waiting for your love
