

Thinking Of You

Flo Rida

but it hurts to think youre somewhere on a search for me.

im right here with no words to speak daydreaming about what could never be.
it will never be.

but i wonder do you think of me do you think of me, could im thinking of. all i wanted was to keep this love alive (yeah) and all i wanted was to be there by your side.
(yeah yeah)

i know better than to keep on telling lies should have swallowed my pride but i think sometimes that maybe it was best it was best that we let it go

maybe it was best it was best that we let it go but it hurts to think

youre somewhere on a search for me
im right here with no words to speak

but i wonder
do you think of me
cause im thinking of you

maybe it was best it was best that we let it go
maybe it was best it was best that we let it go

I think its best that we let it go no stress than the mess we was headed for cause only trouble had vision in the telescope a peace of mind better than mission impossible who want a possible

I take a bird in the hand if its toucan

But two cant play the star in a new band Rockin wit you get it poppin wit you

When da gossip hit you I dont wanna say I shoulda coulda woulda would

Any nigga in his right mind wanna keep a grudge deadly flow kid you aint never seen a dove dancing over trouble what its papas daughter rolling stones she cant hide in a Louis clutch the bigger man when I look back at it pretty much another chance at it pass on it like a bud just hit the gas on it man shortly to the club I think its best it was best that we split up

maybe it was best it was best that we let it go maybe it was best it was best that we let it go but it hurts to think youre somewhere on a search for me
maybe it was best it was best that we let it go
maybe it was best it was best that we let it go
And, all I ever wanted was a good girl Good girls come within I got a tell a little girl Shawty lil mama lets try to save the drama I know I aint a saint but still believe in comma Im gon try to get my shit together Oh yeah I know its misery So what the hell I tell her Hello good morning
I was out with my homie for his birthday
But that excuse had neva had me comin home late You straight im straight I dont want to deal with it Yeah she told me that a couple times ima live with it No yo let me know I might come visit Thats when you know you got the rope around your neck Pitchin, scratching, choking whatever Hangin from the tree the next time I know better Face tattooed on me should of got letters Dead to her face if I could Ill tell her
maybe it was best it was best that we let it go
maybe it was best it was best that we let it go
im right here with no words to speak

maybe it was best it was best that we let it go
