Piano

Cassadee Pope

I was fragile, I was nervous
I was flawed and you were perfect
I was timid, you were fearless
I was in it, you could feel it
You were music, I was listening
Not a beat that you were missing
I got so caught up in the way you soundYou played me like a piano
You made it sound pretty, stringing me along
I fell for every note
Guess I didn't know it was a heartbreak song
I'm not a stupid girl, I should have known
I let you play me like a piano, oh
You played me like a pianoIt would feel good for a minute
Just a scream but you won't hear it
But the truth is this is my fault
All the big things started out small
All of a sudden, I had two hearts
One was so blind, one was too smart
And the weakest part of me wouldn't let go
OhYou played me like a piano
You made it sound pretty, stringing me along
I fell for every note
Guess I didn't know it was a heartbreak song
I'm not a stupid girl, I should have known
I let you play me like a piano, oh
You played me like a piano
Oh, ohThank you and I guess I'll thank myself
Smart girls don't let this kind of thing happen twice
I'll never let anyone elseYou played me like a piano
You made it sound pretty, stringing me along
I fell for every note
Guess I didn't know it was a heartbreak song
I'm not a stupid girl, I should have known
I let you play me like a piano, oh
You played me like a piano
Oh, ohI fell for every note
You played me like
You played me like a pianoYou played me like a piano

Songwriters
CASSADEE BLAKE POPE, JIMMY ROBBINS, LAURA VELTZPublished by Lyrics Â© Warner/Chappell Music, Inc.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/