

Light It Up

Eliza and the Bear

Oh I got a feeling deep deep down
And my life has got no meaning that I need to get out
It will take all night but you'll never know
If you follow your feet, you'll find your way home
And I know, I know So light it up oh oh, ohh oh oh
When the weight of the world falls on your shoulders
Light it up oh oh, ohh oh oh
When the weight of the world falls on your shoulders
Light it up Oh I know you need it deep deep down
Cause you spend your life dreaming, oh you need to get out
You can change your life but you'll never know
If you follow your feet, you'll find your way home
And I know, I know
So light it up oh oh, ohh oh oh
When the weight of the world falls on your shoulders
Light it up oh oh, ohh oh oh
When the weight of the world falls on your shoulders
Light it up I lost myself in the cold but I am still here
I found myself growing old but I am still here
I lost myself in the cold but I am still here
I found myself growing old but I am still here I lost myself in the cold but I am still here
I found myself growing old but I am still here
I lost myself in the cold but I am still here
I found myself growing old but I am still here
So light it up oh oh, ohh oh oh
When the weight of the world falls on your shoulders
Light it up oh oh, ohh oh oh
When the weight of the world falls on your shoulders
Light it up, ohh light it up
When the weight of the world falls on your shoulders
Light it up, ohh light it up
When the weight of the world falls on your shoulders
Light it up
