Time In A Picture (Album Version)

Punchline

I arrive alive and to my demise it's another sunny day
A dark and gray glass lottery a victorious dismay
I'm up all night inside my room just trying to ignore the unfortunate color of the sky I live underI'm going I'm gone but I won't stay for long.
I'm going I'm gone but I won't stay for long.The hand I drew had more cards in it than should have been dealt
But there's a card completing everything that I have not yet held Untie the lines and lives that hide beneath my broken smile
'cause I can't crack it anymore your eyes say stay but your stare says go away
So I will go you're never going to see me again so I'm toldI'm going I'm gone but I won't stay for long.
I'm going I'm gone but I won't stay for long.I've been listening to the memories from a long long time ago
Snapshots taken by my mind in time but where were they last night?
When time in a picture arrivedI'm going I'm gone but I won't stay for long.
I'm going I'm gone but I won't stay for long.Right nows the time to drive a million miles away
But I'll be here in pictures
Right now the time to drive a million miles away
I'll make it in my head.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/