

Flowers

Zaine Griff

You brought us flowers to share
Beautiful flowers to share
Left them with love in some cafe
Danced with ghosts of Genet
You danced for hours

You brought us flowers to share
Tranquil perfumes fill the air
I find it hard to explain it
How does one explain this
That you brought us flowers with so much love to share
You brought us flowers with so much love to share

Into this dream you found the door that introduced your dreams
Where sailors dance, pimps and whores
Don't even stand a chance with sailors

Your life is sad, there's no life sadder
It's something love can't make better
Yet you brought us flowers with so much love to share
You brought us flowers with so much love to share (Jean Genet)
