Blood Orange

A thousand halos in the skyYou're the face behind my face
That keeps me dreaming
You're a phase, inside a cage
That keeps repeatingWe should be dancing with the angels
A thousand halos in the sky
But we're far from HeavenYou're the danger (danger in my life)
And I'm dangerous (dangerous one)
In my life
You're the page (danger in my own time)
That keeps on burningWe should be dancing with the angels
A thousand halos fill the sky
But we're too far from Heaven
A thousand halos fill the light
But we're far from HeavenAnd the door is open (door is open)
A crack of light (light)
The door was open (door was open)
I could've stepped inside (side)
Oh, to be brave, want to be brave
Oh, to be brave, want to be brave
To be brave
In this battle of the agesWe should be dancing with the angels
A thousand halos in the sky
But we're too far from Heaven
A thousand halos in the light
But we're far from Heaven
