Insomnium

I have come to the end of my line
With these final steps I take back my freedom
Unchain the shackles that never could hold my mindTime keeps running and running
Outstripping the dead tired ones
The hours will run out from us all
And in the end no one differs from the otherOnly the blue sky and the green grass
Go on forever in this world
Where seconds feel like eternity
And years pass in blink of an eyeWhen the last rays of light
Set behind these shores
Night wraps me in its blanket
And leads my way to the starsThrough the fear and the ache
Pass the storm and the rain
I have made peace with the world
I am born againI may be gone in the flesh
But my love will stay here
I am always with you in spirit
So just stay strongNo one wins tonight
No one gets a closure
No one walks away victoriousBut don't forget me
Don't you forget me
Burn a candle for me when you can
