Used Me Up

AFTRHOURS

I'm jumping through hoops for you everyday
And I can go the distance, you can't meet me halfway
I would put you first, but you never felt the same
Tell me, would you hurry if I screamed your name?Talking to myself, all up in my head
Took me to the limit, I swear you did
Talking to myself, all up in my head
Thinking through the past where it beganI guess that you used me up
I guess that you used me upYou can give it out, but you never take it well
Playing so cool, like you never need help
I was in your corner til you pushed me away
Maybe that's the reason for this needed escapeTalking to myself, all up in my head
Took me to the limit, I swear you did
Talking to myself, all up in my head
Thinking through the past where it beganI guess that you used me up
I guess that you used me upTalking to myself
Talking to myself
Talking to myself
You're all up in my head
You're all up in my headI guess that you used me up
I guess that you used me up
