

Nobody Believes You

Emile Haynie

When I think about your friends
Hating every single one of them
Does the couple come, so we pretend high and
And the couple puts it over then
Don't you know you're the company you keep? (You keep)
I bet those fools you're gonna stay
Don't you know you'll forever be too weak (Too weak)
To ever get the chance to run away Just a sad, sad tale,
Of another man calling, another man calling, another man calling
In a mad, mad world
Of a little girl love, little girl love, little girl love
Open up your eyes and see the truth
Nobody believes you, nobody believes you
Nobody believes you, nobody believes you So I re-read all your poems
Thank the Lord that I'm alone
Such a low I thought that's in your tone
To wonder that you figured out your phone Don't you know that I'd never be so numb (So numb)
To ever wanna come back again
Don't you know you'll forever be too dumb (Too dumb)
To start to figure out what's happening Just a sad, sad tale,
Of another man calling, another man calling, another man calling
In a mad, mad world
Of a little girl love, little girl love, little girl love
Open up your eyes and see the truth
Nobody believes you, nobody believes you
Nobody believes you, nobody believes you Oh, you're not the only one to blame
It takes two to play the game
Thought I'd play what I was dealt
Just turns out I play it myself
Dumb to down I was a clown
I slept sound and you slept around
Anyone, anyone can see it now! Just a sad, sad tale,
Of another man calling, another man calling, another man calling
In a mad, mad world
Of a little girl love, little girl love, little girl love
Just a sad, sad tale,
Of another man calling, another man calling, another man calling
In a mad, mad world
Of a little girl love, little girl love, little girl love

Open up your eyes and see the truth
Nobody believes you, nobody believes you
Nobody believes you, nobody believes you
Nobody believes you

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>