

Follow You

Karl Valentine

where do we go from here?
the signs on the road were clear but still we lost our way and the world that we had hoped to change is still the same

our parents knew all along the protests and all the songs would all just fade away it was just a stage
and our parents were not wrong

these are seasons of our lives
and the children do survive they just follow you along
they just follow you along

where do we go from here?
our fortunes and our careers have left us wondering was it just a dream?
the Great society is now gone... there's a man on a downtown train who looks every bit like me he turns, i look away
the more we try to change we're still the same

these are seasons of our lives
and the children do survive
they just follow you along
they just follow you along

© Karl Valentine 2003

Lyrics submitted by Karl Valentine.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlyrics.com/>