

Gonna Take It

The John Butler Trio

Smile, your lovely smile
And tell me of tomorrows for awhile
In the hole, my hand
And tell me, tell me, tell me what, understand
I, know your name
And every no one else I trust now with this shame
So, so come on open up your hearts
And I will take it back to the beginning, I will
Yes, I am gonna take it, gonna take it
Gonna take it, right back from the start
Gonna take it, gonna take it
Gonna take it, right back from the start
Yes, I am weary and I am torn, yeah
Been fighting a war that started before, since i was born
And now before it tears my heart and never far
'Cause this is my rock nomination, this is me
And she said, taste the spice
Don't just hang it up in the corner where everything looks nice
And the same well, used to be same
This is your help man, this is your wealth and your long time dead
Yes, I am gonna take it, gonna take it
Gonna take it, right back from the start
Gonna take it, gonna take it
Gonna take it, right back from the start
Gonna take it, gonna take it
Gonna take it, right back from the start
Gonna take it, gonna take it
Gonna take it, right back from the start
