

I Can't Love You Anymore

Gary Nichols

How do I break it to my heart
That it's gotta get over you?
How do I learn to live apart
From the one I gave my life to? Well right here, right now Better turn me inside out, so I can just move on So bring on the pain, let it kill your memory
Bring on the rain, let it drown what's left of you and me
I know the only way I'm ever gonna make it
Is buryin' the best of us even though it's killin' me
'Cause I don't love you any less but I can't love you anymore How will I learn to trust again
If I can't forget you?
How will I let a new love in
If I'm still holdin' onto you? All these angry tears and those wasted years
The only way I'll ever let 'em go Is to bring on the pain, let it kill your memory
Bring on the rain, let it drown what's left of you and me
I know the only way I'm ever gonna make it
Is buryin' the best of us even though it's killin' me
'Cause I don't love you any less but I can't love you anymore Oh, so bring on the pain, let it kill your memory
Bring on the rain, let it drown what's left of you and me
I know the only way I'm ever gonna make it
Is buryin' the best of us even though it's killin' me
'Cause I don't love you any less, no, I don't love you any less
But I can't love you anymore
