What You Don't Say

Vince Gill

Sometimes this old world gets to me
And I sure can be a jerk
But you always see the best in me
God knows you've seen the worstYou know when to let me be
Pull yourself real close to me
And how to take my breath awayYou don't care who's right or wrong
I know whose side you're on
It's more than the love that we make
It's what you don't sayMan, I should have been the death of me
I sure can run it in the ground
When you come lie here next to me
Girl, you bring me back aroundYou know when to let me be
Pull yourself real close to me
And how to take my breath awayYou don't care who's right or wrong
I know whose side you're on
It's more than the love that we make
It's what you don't sayYou know when to let me be
Pull yourself real close to me
And how to take my breath awayYou don't care who's right or wrong
I know whose side you're on
It's more than the love that we make
It's what you don't say
It's what you don't say
It's what you don't say