

Sensitive Man

Nick Lowe & Los Straitjackets

Lately when I go to sleep and kiss
I feel you pulling away
I know something is a miss
But what it is, you won't say
If I've done something to upset you
Believe me, that was never my plan
But how can I fix it, standing out here in the cold?
I'm a sensitive man You don't always have to speak
You can say it with a look
Even across a crowded room
I can read it like a book
But other times when there's something on your mind
Make it as plain as you can
Don't freeze me baby, I know, dinkey doo
I'm a sensitive man
I'm a sensitive man
You can hear that in my song
I'm a sensitive man
My first impressions could steal you wrong Sent silly, my one desire
Was to make you happy again
But I can't come back till you let me back in
I'm a sensitive man I'm a sensitive man
You can hear that in my song
I'm a sensitive man
My first impressions might well steal you wrong
(Out in the cold)
Trying to do good
(But so misunderstood)
(Man)

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>