Stronger

Boyzone

Running out of options
Running out of time
Running out of easy ways
Of things to say
Nothing left but goodbye
Baby, please forgive me
If I act so surprised
I thought that we were stronger than that
I thought that we were stronger than that
I though that we would fight it little harder than we did
To find a way to just keep hanging on
I can't believe it's gone
I got to learn to take it
I got to learn to breathe
Right now I'm feeling faithless
In graceless arms
But I got to learn to believe
That it happened for a reason
But it's just too hard to see
I thought that we were stronger than that
I thought that we were stronger than that
I thought that we would fight it little harder than we did
How do we get from there to nowhere?
How can you just stop and say you don't care?
When I know that you used to do
How come those just come so easy
After all that we've been through?
I thought we were stronger than that
I thought we were stronger than that
I thought we would fight a little harder than we did
To find a way to just keep hanging on
Running out of options
Running out of time
