

The World

Casey McQuillen

Looking at this ocean blue
I swore I wouldn't think of you
But now I wonder
I'm blind but you can't see
I know you do not think of me
Still I wonder

And I wonder
Why you love her
Yes I wonder
For another

And you think you know the world
And I think the world of you
And you know you know the truth
But that doesn't make it true
And you think you love a girl
And I think she loves you too
So there's not much else
I can do

Envy can make me green
My love seems to make you mean
So you wonder
Just me being here
Is enough to make the others stare
You just wonder

And you wonder
Why you love her
Yes you wonder
Of another

Chorus

And you think you know the world
And I think the world of you
And you know you know the truth
But that doesn't make it true
And you think you love a girl

I would give the world to you
Cause there's not much else I can do
