

Dark Side of Me

Alannah Myles

I catch a chill when I look into your eyes
Something too familiar, I seem to recognize
Like lookin' in the mirror, baby and I'm scared of what I see
Lookin' at you, baby is the dark side of me
Comin' from the same place, two of a kind
Brought up on the wrong side of a one track mind
Whenever we're together, baby, we're as bad as we can be
Lookin' at you, baby is the dark side of me
There's two sides to every story
But every shame there's a glory
And I've tried, and have I tried
To keep a balance between the dark and the light
Sometime the sum don't add up
When I'm with you, how can two wrong's feel so right
Feel so right
One way conversation between you and I
Ask all the right questions and need no reply
On all the wrong answers, baby, we always tend to agree
Lookin' at you, baby is the dark side of me, aha, yeah
Lookin' at, lookin' at you, baby is the dark side of me
The dark side of me
