Biffy Clyro

I'm going to walk to the water's edge Refuse to be cleansed but struggle in Your crown don't fit so vacate the throne
And off with your head, I need a shoulder to cry on I got a heart, I got a reason to love you all, every single person
It's not at all our conversation,
I'm looking for total dislocation
I always wake to the sound of your voice

And I am floating on an ominous cloud
This dark land looming over the hill
Maintain a holy stance and protect your children
I got a tree, it's time to cut it to its knees, don't want to rush it
We got to please, we have to glisten as I remain in splendid isolation
Hey, you can be lost at the same time as being found
Hey, you can be lost at the same time as being found
