

Somewhere a Child Is Sleeping

John McDermott

The snow is softly falling
The night is cold and grey
The forests fields and mountains
 Await the coming day
One star outshines the others
 So bright as if to say
 This is a special morning
A child was born on christmas day.Long ago, far away
 In a stable bare
 Look and see, he sleeps so peacefully
 As if the cold of night were never there
 Bless all the little children
 Whenever they may lay
 Somewhere a child is sleeping
A child was born on christmas day.So we might love each other
 In peace and honor's way
 Somewhere a child is sleeping
A child was born on christmas day
 To save the world from sadness
 His troubled life he gave
 To offer hope and gladness
 Our weary souls to save
 To comfort us in trouble
 To guide us ev'ryday
 One hope for life eternal
A child was born on christmas dayLong ago, far away
 In a stable bare
 Look and see he sleeps so peacefully
 As if the cold of night were never there
 Bless all the little children
 Where ever they may lay
 Somewhere a child is sleeping
A child was born on christmas day.
 So we might love each other
 In peace and honor's way
 Somewhere a child is sleeping
A child was born on christmas day.

Songwriters

FRANK MILLSPublished by
Lyrics © PETER PIPER MUSIC AMERICA LLC

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>