

The Remedy

Blake Lewis

This is a remedy
You're running from all that you said to me
We fell apart and then just let it be
But I know that I don't wanna say goodbye
All alone, this world can be so empty
But what we have is not an ordinary love
It's more than just enough
So tell me now, girl
Are you listening? Are you listening?
Is everything alright?
And if you're listening, let me hear you say the words
I need tonight, need tonight
The sound could save our life
If we follow the melody, follow the melody
When love is on the line
This is the remedy, this is the remedy
'Cause everything inside of me
Is calling out for you to see
This sound could save our life
If we follow the melody before we're out of time
I never know enough to find out what it takes
To fall apart and watch you walk away
Now I know losing you is my mistake
I was passed and slowly turning days
I want you back, the only one for me is you
What am I to do?
So tell me now, girl
Are you listening? Are you listening?
Is everything alright?
And if you're listening, let me hear you say the words
I need tonight, need tonight
The sound could save our life
If we follow the melody, follow the melody
When love is on the line
This is the remedy, this is the remedy
'Cause everything inside of me
Is calling out for you to see
This sound could save our life
If we follow the melody before we're out of time

This is the remedy, before we're out of time
This is the remedy, before we're out of time
This is the remedy, before we're out of time
This is the remedy, before we're out of time
    The sound could save our life
If we follow the melody, follow the melody
    When love is on the line
    This is the remedy, this is the remedy
    'Cause everything inside of me
    Is calling out for you to see
    This sound could save our life
If we follow the melody before we're out of time
    Before we're out of time
    Before we're out of time
    Before we're out of time
    Before we're out of time
