Mirage

Lunic

I sit on the edge of the magic bridge
Overlooking all of the carnage
Your innocence is my tourniquet
And I am still a masochist
When will this all be over?
We'll never be together
Why does the fire illuminate our future sorrow?
I see a reflection down below
Outline of a girl I hardly know
I throw a rock right at her face
Let the water take her place
When will this all be over?
We'll never be together
Why does the water saturate the dawn with sarcasm?
I feel the sun beating down on me
A scarlet dose of reality
Your shade not enough to save my skin
The burn a scar from my wicked sin
When will this all be over
We'll never be together
Why does the scar seem worth what will become of us in the end?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/