Alive Like Me

I keep on sinking away, kept from this
I can't pretend it's alright, no
Can't take it no, I can't take it
You went back on every word you said
I can't pretend it's alright

My god, what have I done?
... was just a broken promise
What this, down from the sun
...next time,... be honest
Nothing's ever safe for me
Yes I know it's alright
Now it's time to let me know

Was it worth your time to just give up?
I don't think you understand
That because of you I have to run
Away from everything you've done
Everything you've done

If I run away, it was to get alive again
Wasn't happy with the choice you've made
So break apart all that we've been
You know I never wanted it to be like this
Every day I wonder why we live with it
You know that I'm... on my own

Was it worth your time to just give up?
I don't think you understand
That because of you I have to run
Away from everything you've done
Everything you've done

I guess some things aren't meant to last forever
I can't stop it, this... inside
I can't get back the days that I spent Taking..
Teaching myself how to survive

I keep on sinking away, kept from this

Let's just pretend it's alright

Was it worth your time to just give up?

I don't think you understand

That because of you I have to run

Away from everything you've done

Everything you've done
