

Save Yourself

The Psychedelic Ensemble

Here within these dungeon walls there is no light
The time has come for us to rise and stand and fight
Cast away your hope the King will see us through Bringing back the golden days that we once knew And the Queen is right
The time has come to face the truth
And you waste your time
No one is going to save you
Don't count on someone else
Better save yourself In our fractured land no one can see the light
Waiting for a saviour lost unto the night
Wasting time on fantasies and tales and lies
Waiting for the Golden King to somehow rise And the time is right
For us to stand and face the truth
So don't waste your time
No one has come to rescue you
Don't count on someone else
Better save yourself In our fractured land no one can see the light
Waiting for a saviour lost unto the night
Wasting time on fantasies and tales and lies
Waiting for the Golden King to somehow rise And the time is right
For us to stand and face the truth
So don't waste your time
No one has come to rescue you
Don't count on someone else
Better save yourself Save yourself
