Sing

Garrison Starr

The world has lost its head
The wheels keep on turning
My spirit's nearly dead
The fires keep on burningBut today I will sing, today I will singI can't wrap my mind
Around why it should have to be
So hard to live this life
I hope my faith can carry meBut today I will sing, today I will singI give too much time
To chasing shadows I can't ever find
At the end of every line
The song keeps swelling up insideIt's a drag sometimes
To offer up our best
To make the only light
In a world of darkness
It's our greatest testSo today I will sing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/