

Come Get Some

Rooster

Baby it don't matter
Anyone can see the signs
I caught you looking over
With just a little bit of a smile You tell him that you love him
While I'm running through your mind
'Cos I know that you know, your cover will blow
It's only a matter of time It's not my style to try and cheat and lie
Why do you sanctify something that already died?
I've got something that'll bring you alive Are you gonna shout it from the rooftops honey?
Tell me, I'm the only one
Kick him to the kerb and baby don't stop running
Tell me are you gonna come get some Did you ever ask yourself the question
Where the hell did I go wrong?
'Cos you know when it's through, I'll be waiting for you
So tell me how you're gonna come come come get some? All those words you're wasting Trying to tell yourself you need more time
What's the point in fakin'?
When you know you'll never make it right You say your head is blurry
But I can't get you out of mine
I don't mean to cause pressure
But I just can't let you go on while you're living this lie It's not my style to let this pass me by
Why do you sanctify something that already died?
I've got something that'll bring you alive Are you gonna shout it from the rooftops honey?
Tell me, I'm the only one
Kick him to the kerb and baby don't stop running
Tell me are you gonna come get some Did you ever ask yourself the question
Where the hell did I go wrong?
'Cos you know when it's through, I'll be waiting for you
So tell me how you're gonna come come come get some? Crushed out and waiting
Blacked out and fading'
Flaked out and shaken'
Just breaking for you, breaking for you
Freaked out and pacing
I can't go on like this forever Are you gonna shout it from the rooftops honey?
Tell me, I'm the only one
Kick him to the kerb and baby don't stop running
Tell me are you gonna come get some Did you ever ask yourself the question
Where the hell did I go wrong?
'Cos you know when it's through, I'll be waiting for you

So tell me how you're gonna come come come get some?
